

2 HURT IN MONDAY NIGHT WRECK ON THE BYPASS; ONE FLOWN TO U OF L

Tuesday, 29 January 2013 12:23

Glasgow police are investigating a wreck that happened Monday night at the intersection of Cleveland Avenue and the 31-E Bypass. 20 year old Cody Crowe of Lexington Drive was injured and flown to University of Louisville Hospital for injuries received. It is believed that Crowe was driving South on the Bypass, when a minivan driven by 30 year old Anne H. Upchurch of Preston Street was turning north onto the bypass from Cleveland Avenue West of the Intersection. Crowe apparently ran through the stoplight striking the driver side of the minivan. A female juvenile passenger seated in the rear of the minivan was ejected onto the roadway and required treatment at T.J. Samson Hospital. Upchurch and a second female Juvenile were not injured, according to the report. Crowe was transported by Air Methods to University of Louisville Hospital. Police will continue the investigation and gather more facts as to the cause of the wreck.