

MUSICAL COMEDY MURDERS AUDITIONS START THURSDAY

Monday, 05 August 2013 14:00

A Glasgow Community theater group will hold auditions this weekend for their most recent play. The Far Off Broadway Players are casting for the Musical Comedy Murders of 1940.

Director Bob Cetera says Musical Comedy Murders takes place at a show audition which features some wild characters including a drunkard lyric writer and a struggling comedian who was modeled after Bob Hope.

{audio}http://wcluradio.com/newscuts/0806cetera1.mp3{/audio}

The play is not actually a musical- it only features one song- but Director Bob Cetera says Musical Comedy Murders is sure to bring in the laughs.

{audio}http://wcluradio.com/newscuts/0806cetera2.mp3{/audio}

Cetera says anyone may audition regardless of experience and age level.

{audio}http://wcluradio.com/newscuts/0806cetera3.mp3{/audio}

Auditions will take place at the Plaza Theatre on Thursday and Friday from 6:30-9pm and Saturday and Sunday from 11:30am-2pm. The Stage Door Slasher will not be present.

For more information contact Bob Cetera at 773-3496.