

Over 50 citizens attended a town hall meeting last night as Congressman Brett Guthrie is using his summer congressional break to visit all 21 of the counties he represents to hear their concerns. In the meeting last night a large percentage of the questions from the audience were about health care reform. Guthrie says he's running into that a lot

{audio}http://wcluradio.com/newscuts/0813guthrie1.mp3{/audio}

Guthrie said that he is anxious to get back to work in Washington

{audio}http://wcluradio.com/newscuts/0813guthrie2.mp3{/audio}

Last night's meeting was held at the T.J. Samson Healthcare Pavilion's community room.