

Another storm system moved across parts of Kentucky

over night. Reports have come in to the Commonwealth

Emergency Operations Center (CEOC) of damage from possible tornados.

Grayson County officials are reporting damage in the community of Tar Hill and 2900 block of St. Paul road where a house, mobile home, barns and several outbuildings have been destroyed. Approximately 300 are without power at this time, work is ongoing to restore power. Also received are unconfirmed reports of damage in Big Clifty area of Grayson County.

Hardin County reports damage to the County Fairgrounds, where a stock building has been destroyed and a restaurant had a wall knocked down a roof blown off.

Local

officials stated it appears this damage was the result of a possible tornado, as well.

Anderson County emergency officials reported a possible tornado sighted in the Chaplin

community; however, there are no reports of damage.

The National Weather Service's Joe Sullivan toured Barren County on Monday, with a focus on an area near Haywood, where a lot of damage occurred on Sunday. He told WCLU Local news what he discovered.

There have been no reports of injuries or fatalities from these storms.

Severe weather warnings and watches are in effect for much of the Commonwealth WCLU will continuously monitor all sources for important weather and travel information.

MOST FLOOD DEATHS OCCUR IN AUTOMOBILES. NEVER DRIVE YOUR VEHICLE INTO

AREAS WHERE THE WATER COVERS THE ROADWAY. FLOOD WATERS ARE USUALLY

DEEPER THAN THEY APPEAR. JUST ONE FOOT OF FLOWING WATER IS POWERFUL

ENOUGH TO SWEEP VEHICLES OFF THE ROAD. WHEN ENCOUNTERING FLOODED

ROADS MAKE THE SMART CHOICE...TURN AROUND...DONT DROWN.
