Miss Myrtle Dean, Superintendent of the Samson Community Hospital, has announced that a volunteer nurses- aid training school will be started at the local hospital on January 1. Miss Dean said the courses will last six months and only high school graduates will be accepted for training. The course will be open to Barren County women and all those completing the course will be awarded certificates.

This is the last year that Thanksgiving will be the next to the last Thursday in November instead of the last Thursday. In the summer of 1939 President Roosevelt ordered Thanksgiving on the earlier Thursday, explaining that he did so at the request of merchants who wanted a longer shopping period between Thanksgiving and Christmas. Earlier this year the president admitted that the change had no appreciable affect on business and that, beginning next year, the holiday would revert to the last Thursday in November.

Thirty-two thousand rural mail carriers are now acting as agents in the sale of Defense Savings Stamps. Demand for the stamps in sparsely settled districts caused the Post Office Department to authorize the carriers to act as salesmen.

Governor Keen Johnson has asked that motorists turn in their 1941 auto license plates when they buy the 1942 tags since there will be no more steel available for plates.

York, World War hero, is being treated at the Samson community Hospital for a fractured skull received Saturday near Jamestown, Tennessee, when struck on the temple by a metal slug thrown by a friend in a friendly scuffle. He underwent emergency surgery Saturday night and, on Thursday Dr. C. C. Howard reported the youth's condition as satisfactory. His parents have been at the bedside of their son this week and have been greeted at every turn by Glasgow residents anxious to get a glimpse of the most outstanding American hero of the World War.

Local road house operators plan to "hold on" until January 1 and then to close out and leave for a distant point. Why? Well, in the first place, the January grand jury will be in session; in the second place, a new County Judge and a new Sheriff will take over. Both are pledged to close all illegally operated road houses in this county. But all through the holidays, the road houses are expected to do a booming business.

Corporal Sidney DeLong and Corporal Joe Richardson left last Tuesday for Camp Eustis, Virginia after a ten-day furlough and visit with friends and relatives. DeLong, a native of Lexington, was assistant county agent here prior to induction into the Army.
