New Type Program at Temple Hill High School. Twenty-seven seniors will receive diplomas at a most unusual and striking Commencement Exercise to be given by the Senior Class at Temple Hill High School. The program, in which every Senior has a part, is presented in the form of a play entitled "Attic Memo- ries." The setting is an attic in 1952, where the Seniors are found as portraits hanging on the wall. They come from their frames and re-live their Commencement which is supposed to have taken place some years before. Valeria Barbour will give the valedictory address.

Two more signs "Gone to the Army" can be theoretically hung on the doors of two more local attorneys following the acceptance of Philip H. Wilson, City Attorney, and John Basil Preston, both of whom volunteered for delivery of the contingency yesterday. Wilson had previously been rejected but, not satisfied with the exam , insisted on another try – and it worked. Mr. Preston has already closed his office and stored his equipment, but Mr. Wilson expects to return this weekend to store the library and equipment of the firm of Wilson and Wilson "for the duration."

More than 600,000 pounds of scrap metal were shipped from Barren County during the months of January, February, and March. All farmers who have not already turned in scrap metal are requested to pile up their scrap iron and then notify the County Agent to have it picked up. A small pen is being set up in the Courthouse yard, and all persons who have just a small amount of iron may deposit it in this pen. So come on, folks, and Slap the Jap with Your Scrap.

George J. Ellis Sr. Passes Suddenly Today. The passing of George Ellis removes from Glasgow and Barren County one of its strongest and most influential citizens, and one whose passing will be felt in many varied activities of the community. Until recent years when actively in charge of his popular Corner Drug Store, Mr. Ellis was prominent in many activities. Perhaps first on his list was member of the Board of Deacons of the Glasgow Baptist Church. Other activities included President of Citizens National Bank, President of the Board of Trustees of Samson Community Hospital, Director of Glasgow Railway Company, the Jacksonway Hotel, and many other local activities. He entered the drug business about 44 years ago, for many years an associate with the late J.S. Leech and later became an associate with Dr. E. T. Ellison, at this corner, in the firm of Ellis and Ellison . After Dr. Ellison's death, the firm became known as George J. Ellis Drug Company. Associated with him in the Corner Drug Store is his son, J. Mitchell Ellis, who survives, as does the other son, Judge George J. Ellis Jr. Only other survivors are his sister, Mrs. Howe Ralston and two grandchildren, George J. III and Martha Mitchell Ellis. Though he will be missed, Glasgow is fortunate to have had his activity and influence for more than fifty years.

Ten colored registrants were delivered by the Local Board last Saturday morning. While waiting for the bus to arrive, a large crowd gathered to see "the boys" off. It was a jolly time for many, but not for two. For these two, May 9th was breaking in a very bad way, evidenced by the reaction of Cleodis Curry (on the bus) and his brother Leodis, who was seeking a place behind a brick pillar on the Christian Church across the street. May 9th was the birthday of these twin brothers who had never previously been separated. Uncle Sam was taking, Cleodis while Leodis would stay at home with his mother. But the night found them reunited. Cleodis was turned down at the termination station in Louisville and returned home on a late bus. Their 24th birthday was belatedly celebrated on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Basil, one-half mile from the Jackson Highway on the Cave City road, have donated their store building for a church. These good people are getting old and are not able to attend church any more, and they feel that this donation will do a good work for the entire community. The building will be used as a community home church for five denominations: Baptist, Methodist, Presby- terian, Christian, and Hardshell Baptist. We think the proper name for this little church in the bend of the road should be in honor of these good people and should be Basil's Chapel as they have tried so long to donate this famous old stand for the good of the community.

The Glasgow Rotary Club has adopted a resolution to recognize Dr. C. W. Froedge as one of the foremost figures in the establishment of the T.J. Samson Community Hospital. It was he who called to the attention of this community the opportunity of obtaining appropriations from a Commonwealth Fund for the construction and equipping of a modern hospital. Without assistance from this fund, Glasgow's hospital could not have been built. His activity in seeking a Glasgow hospital caused a monetary loss to himself and a direct reduction in his private practice. The Rotary Club now expresses the esteem with which Dr. Froedge was and is held by his fellow citizens.

To All Americans Who Have Not Been Drafted. Tonight when the sun goes down, it will set not only on homes but on Army Camps, Naval Stations, and defense outposts. It will set on 1-1/2 million young men in uniform, most of them far away from home, and many of them in places remote from towns and cities. What their lives will be like after the sun goes down depends largely on you. These men need a club...a place where they can go for recreation and comfort in the evening...a place where they can rest and relax...and get help and advice if they want it.

To provide such a service club, six of America's most experienced organizations have banded together to form the U.S.O. and have set up more than 500 of these clubs. The Government has supplied the buildings, but the American public has the responsibility of running them and financing them. The cost for the first year is estimated at more than $10 million. So, to you who have not been drafted, here is your chance to aid in national defense. You can have a small part in making life more pleasant for those who have been drafted. Will you join the army behind the Army? Say yes...today! Barren County's quota is $3000.
