Popular Potts & Davis Restaurant in Trade. Mr. and Mrs. R.E. Munday have purchased the well known and popular restaurant known as the Potts & Davis Restaurant. This stand has always enjoyed a large patronage and is known over several counties, in fact, has drawn patrons from other counties. Mr. and Mrs. Munday are not strangers here as both of them are Glasgow people. For a dozen years, they have been living in Fort Dodge, Iowa, where Mr. Munday was engaged in kindred business. They are live, wide awake business people who will keep the reputation of this place up to its present standard.

Three Escape City Jail in Second Break. The City Jail seems to need some repairs. It is not a very attractive place in which to reside, as the windows are so high that the prisoners cannot see out except toward the sky. Besides, it is a rather lonely place and somewhat warm in hot weather. And so, many prisoners have been escaping one way or another. We suggest that the City either furnish the prisoners more means of amusement, or else make the lock burglar proof. Make it burglar proof or junk it.

Mr. Joe Dan Squires saw his Plymouth coupe being driven from his garage early Monday night. He had driven into the garage only a few minutes earlier and, as the key was hard to remove from the lock, he let it remain in the lock. The thief may have known of this condition but, any way, soon after Mr. Squires went to his room, he heard a noise at the garage and looked out in time to see his car being driven out the Burkesville Road. He immediately called Policeman Pate Walkup and, together, they drove as far as Summer Shade but, failing to overtake the car, returned home. On Wednesday morning the car was found in a thicket two miles out the Burkesville Road with more gasoline in the tank than it had when taken. But Mr. Squires still thinks he's a loser, as the car had been driven 216 miles, the front bumper, the seat covers and the spare tire were gone, to say nothing of the license plates which are missing.

Doyle's truck depot will be under the super- vision of Mrs. Joe Lewis Bethel.

Treated by Mad Stone. Herbert Goodman, Munfordville, was treated yesterday with the Mad Stone belonging to Mrs. Lucian Peers, who lives on the Edmonton Road just east of Lecta. The stone has been in the possession of Mrs. Peers' family for generations, during which time it has been applied to more than 600 persons. An uncle of Mr. Goodman was treated by the stone more than thirty years ago. The stone is kept in a safety box in a local bank as it is considered very valuable.

Kitchen at Methodist Church Nears Completion. The kitchen, an addition to the Methodist Church, is nearing completion and will be finished within the next few days. The new addition had been desired for some time, and hosting the annual conference in September made it necessary to complete the arrangements for entertaining visiting clergy.

The new duplex building adjoining the home of Mrs. B.G. Dickinson on West Washington Street is nearing completion and at that time will be occupied by her sons, Messrs. Brents Jr and Rogers Dickinson and their families.

Local Youths Will Cavort at Early Morning Frolic. The latest event offered to local society is an "Early Morning Frolic" advertised for the Hillcrest Country Club, beginning at 12:01 a.m. Monday. The event will be "musiced" by the Roy Holmes Orchestra, featuring Bill Bushong, a Monroe County youth who created somewhat of a sensation as a soloist with the Blue and White Orchestra while attending school at the University of Kentucky. He was heard frequently through WHAS and has a most pleasing voice for the radio.

The Joy Making and Mary Arden Shakespeare Clubs, under the direction of Miss Jane Williams, will present a pageant on the lawn of Miss Williams' home on Friday afternoon, August 18, at 4:00 o'clock. Men working on State roads must wear at least shirts and trousers, Chairman Ben Johnson said in a letter to the District Engineer whose headquarters are in Louisville. Highway workers, in many instances, have been in the habit of working nude down to the waist. If any of the employees persist in the habit of such "vulgar immodesty," they should be released from service, Johnson said.

“Buy-A-Pair-of-Pants” Week. Glasgowians as well as other Barren Countians will have the opportunity to demonstrate the “home town” spirit when local merchants will conduct “Buy-A-Pair-of-Pants” week. This movement is deserving of general cooperation since the Washington Manufacturing plant has been Glasgow’s largest payroll for many months and much of the prosperity of the entire community depends upon the plant’s continued success. Hundreds have been furnished employment, and every cent of money has been spent locally. What is good enough to be made in Glasgow should be good enough to be worn by Glasgowians. And speaking from experience, we know that you will be delightfully pleased with this product.

Bowling Alley to Open. Mr. G.C. Irwin, of Elizabethtown, was in Glasgow yesterday completing arrangements for the opening of his bowling alley about September 1.

J.D. Elmore was given a life sentence in the penitentiary last Thursday by a jury in the Monroe Circuit Court for the killing of Gilbert Hood, who was brutally assassinated at his home about four months ago. Elmore’s conviction followed shortly on the heels of a similar sentence inflicted last Wednesday on Hood’s widow, Irlie Hood, for conspiracy in the assassination. It was contended by the Commonwealth that the two had killed Hood in order to get the $3000 life insurance which he carried. A prompt solution of the gruesome assassination is attributable to the splendid work of Sheriff Evans and County Attorney Paul Carter, who took Elmore into custody within a few hours of the killing and connected a chain of circumstances which shocked the entire community and led to speedy confessions and subsequent convictions.
